Reservation

Unit Objectives

After studying this unit, you should be able to:

- name different room types in English
- make reservations for group guests
- make reservations for individual guests
- revise and cancel reservations
- make and maintain reservation records

Warming-up

Task 1 Match the room types with their corresponding pictures.

single room

double room

TWB/standard room

suite

Task 2 Write each of the expressions under its corresponding picture.

sea-view suite executive suite deluxe suite presidential suite

Task 3 What other room types do you know now? What are they? Discuss with your partner.

Reading

Task 1 Try to answer the following questions before you read the passage.

1. Why is reservation very important in the work of Front Office?
2. How can the Central Reservation System facilitate the reservation work?

Central Reservation System

Since most people make reservations before their stay, the Reservation Department usually becomes guests' first contact with the hotel. Therefore, reservation performs an important Front Office function. Efficient and high-quality reservation service helps create higher levels of guest satisfaction and bring hotel profitability in return.

People can book hotel rooms in a number of ways, by telephone, mail, fax, or the Internet. The introduction of the Central Reservation System (CRS) greatly facilitates the reservation process. The CRS is a computerized system that stores and distributes information on a hotel, resort, or other lodging facility.

The information commonly stored in the CRS includes the room rate, room allotments, room types, room availability, hotel information (such as address, phone number, fax number, room features, and hotel features), hotel cancellation, deposit and minimum stay information, nearby International Air Transport Association (IATA) cities and airports, on-site or nearby restaurants, bars and attractions.

The CRS links different hotels in a hotel chain with each other. It also links the major airline seat reservation systems and the computer terminals in the offices of important travel agencies. Thus the guest's reservation is very much facilitated.

For now the guest can simply go to either a travel agency or an airline office or a hotel and have all his travel arrangements made.

“The Internet is becoming more and more important for hotel bookings. However, I wouldn't say overall it is going to increase our bookings. We have to be aware of it because it's a different method of the way guests can book,” the sales manager John from one five-star hotel says. “So, we have to make sure we are offering the right rates, at the right time and in simple English, so that everyone around the world can understand, as now it is not just travel agents accessing the hotel information, it's somebody sitting at home.”

Task 2 Read the passage and tick off the ways of reservation mentioned in the passage.

<input type="checkbox"/> reserve in person	<input type="checkbox"/> book through a travel agency
<input type="checkbox"/> reserve through a central reservation system	<input type="checkbox"/> reserve at attractions
<input type="checkbox"/> reserve over the phone	<input type="checkbox"/> book on the Internet
<input type="checkbox"/> reserve by mail	<input type="checkbox"/> reserve at nearby restaurants
<input type="checkbox"/> book through the International Air Transport Association	<input type="checkbox"/> reserve at nearby bars
<input type="checkbox"/> reserve by fax	<input type="checkbox"/> book at an airline office

Task 3 Read the passage again and fill in the table about the information stored in the CRS.

Information Stored in the CRS
1. room rate
2. room allotments
3. _____
4. room availability
5. hotel _____
6. deposit
7. minimum stay information
8. hotel information	address phone number _____ room features hotel features
9. nearby information	nearby IATA cities and airports _____ bars _____

Task 4 Decide if the following statements are true (T) or false (F).

- 1. The CRS links hotels around the world with each other.
- 2. We have to offer the right rates at the right time and in difficult English.
- 3. Now everyone may access the hotel information through the Internet.
- 4. The Internet provides a different reservation method.

Listening

Task 1 Listen to five short dialogs and decide what each dialog is about and mark (✓) where appropriate.

	 Rate	 Telephone No.	 Swimming pool	 No. of people	 Date
Dialog 1
Dialog 2

Speaking

Task 1 Read and practice the conversation in pairs.

Reservationist (R): Good morning, New Century Hotel Reservations. Can I help you?

Guest (G): Yes, I'd like to reserve a room for my boss.

R: For which dates?

G: For the nights from January 10th to 14th.

R: How many guests will there be in your party?

G: Just two.

R: Could you hold the line for a moment, please? I'll check if there is a room available for those days.

G: OK.

(The Reservationist checks the hotel's reservation system for the room availability.)

R: Thank you for waiting. We have double rooms and suites. Which do you prefer?

G: How much do you charge for a suite?

R: A junior suite is at 790 yuan per night, and an executive suite 1,090 yuan.

G: I'd like to take the one at 790 yuan.

R: Certainly, madam. Could you tell me the name of the guest, please?

G: Peter Anderson.

R: Peter Anderson. Very well, madam. Could I know if you have any special requests, please?

G: Oh, if possible, I would like to have a quiet room.

R: All right, madam. We can arrange a quiet room for you. So that's a quiet junior suite for Mr. Peter Anderson for the nights from January 10th to 14th. Is that correct?

G: Correct.

R: Thank you, madam. We'll send you an email to confirm the booking. May I have your email address?

G: Certainly. My email is susanroberts@yahoo.com.

R: Susanroberts@yahoo.com. Thanks for calling, madam. We are looking forward to seeing Mr. Anderson. Goodbye.

G: Goodbye.

Task 2 Discuss the procedure of reservation with your partner with the help of the conversation in Task 1 and put the following steps in the correct order.

- A. Confirming the reservation details with the guest;
- B. Asking for the date and room type the guest wants;
- C. Asking for the guest's name, telephone and fax number, address, number of the party, etc.;
- D. Asking for any special requests;
- E. Checking room availability;
- F. Saying goodbye;
- G. Greeting the guest.

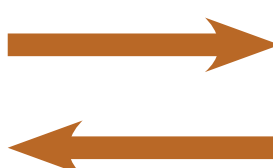

Correct order: _____

Task 3 Michael Ford calls the Reservation Department. He wants to reserve a double room. Make up a conversation similar to the one in Task 1 with the expressions given in the box, and then act it out in pairs.

 Could you pay 200 yuan more to guarantee your revised reservation?

Writing

Task 1 The following is a written record of a guest's reservation call. Read this record.

Reservationist (R): Room Reservations. May I help you?

Guest (G): Yes. Do you have a double room available from September 21st to 26th?

R: Just a moment, please. I will check the computer for room availability... Sorry to have kept you waiting. Since it's the peak season now, all the double rooms are booked up. Would you mind having a junior suite instead?

G: What's the rate, please?

R: For junior suite, the current rate for a junior suite is 1,980 yuan per night, including breakfast.

G: That sounds reasonable. I'll take it.

R: Very good. Could you tell me your name and telephone number, please?

G: Yes, it is Douglas Keeler. (212) 734-1550.

R: Thank you, Mr. Keeler. And what is your address, please?

G: It is 1470 1st Avenue, New York City, USA.

R: Yes, so it is 1470 1st Avenue, New York City, USA.

G: That's right. By the way, I'd like a room with a garden view if that is possible.

R: A garden view room is preferred, okay.

G: Can I pay when I arrive?

R: Yes. We can keep the room for you until 6:00 pm on September 21. If you want to hold the room, we require a 2,000 yuan credit card deposit. You can cancel up to five days in advance and we will refund your deposit.

G: All right. I'll give you my credit card number. It's a Master Card, the number is 5509-0963-1589-8325, and the expiry date is November, 2020.

R: We also have airport pick-up service if you let us have your flight number and arrival time.

G: Oh, that's great, but I don't need that.

R: OK. We'll mail you a reservation card confirming your booking as soon as possible.

G: Just fax me for it. The fax number is (212) 734-1551.

R: (212) 734-1551. I get it. We look forward to your coming.

Project

Project Guidelines

This project aims to go through the process of room reservation. The whole task is divided into three steps. Step One focuses on a research of a local five-star hotel's room information. Step Two is a presentation about the hotel's room information. Step Three calls for a complete role-play of room reservation process.

Please follow the Task Description to complete the project.

Task Description

1 Step One

- Organize small groups of 3 or 4 students in your class.
- Look up information on a local five-star hotel, including its hotel introduction, number of rooms, room types and features, etc. in different ways.
- Focus on its room types, room rates, reservation methods, guaranteed reservation deposit, discount policy, etc.

2 Step Two

- Work in the same group.
- Prepare a presentation to introduce to the class the hotel's room information. The room information should include what you have collected in Step One, especially the room types, room rates, reservation methods, guaranteed reservation deposit, discount policy, etc.
- Choose one student in each group to give a presentation; use multimedia aid if possible.

3 Step Three

- Work still in the same group.
- Prepare a role-play of the whole procedure of room reservation.
- Use the information you obtained in Step One and presented in Step Two.
- Follow the correct steps of reservation procedure you have learned in this unit.
